
Getting Squeezed by Today's Health Care System?

Having your staff bogged down by health insurance and Medicare claims paperwork could be costing your practice thousands of dollars every month. According to The New England Journal of Medicine, physicians' overhead and billing expenses take up 43.7% of their gross professional income.

Our electronic claims service offers a cure. We can quickly solve your insurance billing problems by electronic claims processing. Your overhead will be lower, your cash flow will increase dramatically, and rejected claims will fall to about 2%. Your patients will end up happier because you and your staff will finally have the time and energy to really care for them.
